Cockroach Janta Party holds protest in Hyderabad, demands Dharmendra Pradhan's exit

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

HYDERABAD, JUNE 14: The Cockroach Janta Party and other organisations staged a protest here on Sunday, demanding the resignation of Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan over the NEET paper leak and irregularities related to the CBSE's on-screen marking system.Protestors gathered in large numbers at Dharna Chowk here to voice their frustration against the NDA government at the Centre. Activist and educationist Sonam Wangchuk, who attended the protest, stressed the need for making "bhay-mukt Bharat" (fear-free India).He called for a functional democracy, urging Prime Minister Narendra Modi's government to take accountability for the systemic lapses.

"And in the future, we should bring a functional democracy in which India is fear-free, in which India is hatred-free, in which everyone should be granted freedom without any questions," he said. Wangchuk clarified that the agitation is not a bid for power or to challenge any political outfit, but to raise public awareness and safeguard citizens' rights.

"This is not a movement to become an education minister or to form a party. This is a movement to correct the wrong that is happening in the country, especially with the youth. This is an awakening," he said. Wangchuk noted that the agitation is not limited to just exams, but to strengthen its foundation for which a roadmap will be developed.

"Not just fixing the broken system, or bringing in a new, bright system. We will discuss this further. But today, the biggest problem that has arisen is that of exams, in which they are getting cancelled, in which they are getting leaked, in which everything is going wrong," he asserted. Emphasising that truth and non-violence are their path and justice their destination, he expressed hope that students who suffered due to these exam irregularities would soon get justice.

12 years of Modi govt: UP ministers hail infra, welfare schemes, slam Oppn

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

LUCKNOW, JUNE 14: Ministers and public representatives of the Uttar Pradesh government on Sunday participated in programmes across districts to mark 12 years of the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA) government at the Centre, highlighting welfare schemes and development initiatives while attacking opposition parties.

The leaders claimed that the Congress and the Samajwadi Party had weakened Uttar Pradesh during their tenures, whereas the Modi government had ensured that the benefits of welfare schemes reached the last person in society. Deputy Chief Minister Brajesh Pathak inaugurated a BJP camp and planted saplings at Harkh block in Barabanki district. Attacking the Congress and the SP, he said, "A wooden pot cannot be used repeatedly. Congress and SP misled people for years, but their pot has now been burnt to ashes."
