It reminds me a famous quote by William Shakespeare that "All the world is a stage, And all the men and women merely players; They have their exits and their entrances, And one man in his time plays many parts. " Don't we think this quote holds true, especially today March 27 when we are celebrating 'World Theatre Day. It is celebrated to highlight the importance of theatre as nowadays it is losing its importance.A theatre is a reflection of the society. It is rightly said that "Movies will make you famous; Television will make you rich; but theatre will make you good."The said art form is not only one of the oldest modes of entertainment but is also a way to put across social messages.

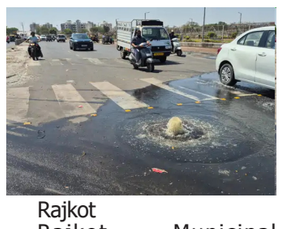

For many centuries now, the theatre has constantly been one of the major forms of entertainment for the people.The meaning of the word Drama derives from the Greek "dran' which means "to do" and the word theatre originates from the Greek, "Theatron", literally meaning the "seeing place". A place not only where we look, but where we 'see', we 'get', we understand. International Theatre Institute (ITI) initiated in 1961 to celebrate World Theatre Day across the world to value and importance of theatre. On this day, ITI host a yearly message, spoken by a chosen famous theatre performer, to share their views about the art of theatre and its future. In 1962, the first message was spoken by Jean Cocteau in 1962. The theatre has been one of the most popular forms of entertainment since the Greeks, and the acting industry today is a hard but potentially prosperous career. World Theatre Day has been created to pay tribute to this incredible form of entertainment. People have enjoyed going to the theatre for many years now. It is a great way to spend time with loved ones and to witness live entertainment. Nowadays the importance of theatre is declining so this day is a wake-up call for governments, politicians, institutions, and people to recognise the value of theatre to the individual, people for economic growth as well. World Theatre Day also acts as a wakeup call for governments, politicians and institutions to recognise the value and significance of Theatre and also to bring forth the point of the potentiality of the art form to contribute to the state's economic growth.

ITI has more than 85 centres throughout the world; it also encourages colleges, schools, theatre professionals to celebrate this day.The main purpose to celebrate the World Theatre Day is tohighlight the importance of art form around the world, to make people aware of the importance of the value of art form, to enable the dance and theatre communities to promote their work on a broad scale and to make aware opinion leaders about the value of these forms and support them and also to enjoy the art form for its own sake.

The theatre has always been under threat of extinction, especially with the rise of the cinema, television and now digital media. The theatre has renounced mass communication and recognized its inherent limits; two beings facing each other, communicating feelings, emotions, dreams and hopes. Scenic art is relinquishing story-telling in favour of discussing ideas. The theatre reflects humankind's existential anguish and unravels the human condition. It is not its creators who speak through the theatre, but rather the society of the epoch.World Theatre Day is, no doubt, one of the most remarkable events. We cannot deny the fact that the theatres have a very inextricable association with social, educational, and political life. It provides a platform where the artists can share the ideologies and ideas with the audience. (B-15 Jyoti-Kalash Society, Jodhpur Tekra, Satellite, Ahmedabad - 380 015) causing rivers of sewage to flow on the road, causing misery to motorists.

Rajkot

Rajkot Municipal Corporation claims to be a smart city, but the ground reality is presenting a different picture. Today, near Sandhiya bridge on the city's busy Jamnagar Road, a drainage line of the municipal corporation suddenly leaked, causing a waterfall of sewage water to flow on the road. Due to this incident, there was a lot of anger against the administration among local residents, pedestrians and motorists. Despite the dirty water flowing on the road for hours, the administration officials woke up late, increasing the misery of the people.

According to the details received, Jamnagar Road is considered the main gateway of the city, where there is 24-hour traffic. Near Sandhia bridge, the sewage line burst or blocked, causing dirty water to take over the entire road. Motorists had to pass through puddles of dirty water, due to which many two-wheeler riders escaped slipping. The clothes of pedestrians were also ruined as the fountains of contaminated water were flying. The most serious thing was that due to the unbearable stench of sewage water, it became difficult to breathe in the surrounding area.

The flow of this dirty water was not limited to the road only but also reached the nearby gardens and footpaths. Here, the poor hawkers who earn their daily wages and live on their trade make a living. As the sewage water returned to their place of sale, customers avoided coming there. It became impossible for these workers to do business amidst the stench and filth. On the one hand, the blow of inflation and on the other hand, due to this kind of negligence of the administration, the daily income of these small traders was directly affected.

In this entire matter, Municipal Corporation City Engineer Atul Rawal said in a telephonic conversation with Divya Bhaskar that the line choked up due to a large amount of garbage entering the drainage line of Sheetal Park. Due to this blockage, the pressure increased and the line on Jamnagar Road leaked. However, he claimed that as soon as the incident was reported, the Municipal Corporation team reached the spot and started cleaning work using a jetting machine. According to the official, the cistern has been cleaned and now the sewage water will go directly into the manhole instead of flowing on the road.

It is worth mentioning that, even though the Municipal Corporation claims that the work has been completed, many questions are arising in the minds of the people. People are asking whether the system does not do any maintenance until the garbage gets stuck in the line? When sewage flows on roads built at a cost of crores, what about the life of that road? If such a situation is created in summer due to ordinary garbage, then what will happen to the people of Rajkot during heavy rains is a big question. The water has receded for now, but this incident has exposed the work of the Municipal Corporation.

Gujarat High Court quashes Surat Magistrate Court order

Rajkot, The school bus was heading towards Kotak School. A horrific accident took place at 7.41 am today near the big Tank Chowk, the heart of the western area of ??Rajkot city. A private school van, while taking a turn at full speed, collided with an oncoming city bus. The collision was so severe that the school van overturned on the road. Five students in the van sustained minor and major injuries, who were immediately taken out by the locals and shifted for treatment. CCTV footage of the entire incident has also surfaced.

What was the sequence of the accident?

School van (GJ.03.FD.2628) was coming from Eagle Office and was turning right near the big tank chowk and heading towards Kotak School. City bus (GJ.03.BZ.4175) was coming from Limda Chowk and was heading towards the big tank chowk. It can be seen in the CCTV footage that the van driver suddenly took a turn at high speed and the bus driver hit the rear of the van before it could brake and the van overturned.

The CCTV footage of the reckless accident clearly shows that the school bus driver was in a hurry. Instead of slowing down while crossing the road, he took a sharp turn at full speed. If the city bus driver had not applied the brakes in time, there could have been a major loss of life.

What did the eyewitness say?

Local resident Vijaybhai Kubawat said that there were about 5 schoolgirls in the school van, fortunately there were no casualties. As soon as the accident happened, people around rushed to the spot and stopped the van and took out the girls trapped inside. The speed of the van driver was too high, which can be called his big mistake. The police should investigate and take action against both the bus and van drivers.

Questioning the action of the administration, parents appealed to be vigilant.

School bus drivers drive at speed even in residential and crowded areas against the rules and even passing taxis are not allowed, so why not take action? Parents also need to be vigilant about the behavior and speed of the driver of the vehicle in which their children travel.

6-inch Rambo paddle through youth's finger

Terror of the bold elements who came to search for 'Sultan' in Vesu, Surat, inflicted axe and paddle wounds on youths playing cricket

Surat

The violent incident that took place at midnight at Ambedkar Nagar-1 SMC Housing in Vesu area of ??Surat city has created an atmosphere of fear and anger in the entire area. The brazen men, who were looking for a person named 'Sultan', fatally attacked innocent youths playing cricket, in which a 19-year-old youth sustained serious injuries after a 6-inch Rambo paddle got stuck in his finger.

The men who were looking for Sultan bullied the youths playing cricket.

On the midnight of April 28, at around 12:30 am, 24-year-old Shani Dharmabhai Goswami and his 19-year-old brother Bobby were playing cricket with their friends outside their residence. At that time, a gang including Ansh alias Babu Upadhyay, Pankaj alias Pankya Sendane and Ashu alias Gullu Bihari from S.D. Jain College rushed in on a moped and bike with weapons. These men were bullying and fighting with the locals without any reason on the pretext of searching for a person named 'Sultan'.

The gang came with weapons and attacked the youths.

When Bobby put his hand forward to defend himself, the attacker attacked him with full force, which went through his finger and got stuck. Seeing this horrific scene, the people present there were terrified.

While trying to save his brother, the elder brother was also attacked.

In this attack, Tarun Panpatil, Mayur Baviskar, Tushar alias Tutli and Rakesh Mohite alias Balo along with other accomplices also got together and started a fight and after that all the accused left their vehicles and fled.

The accused who molested the girl was beaten up in the presence of the police

Surat

Taking advantage of the loneliness of an innocent 11-year-old girl who had gone to buy Alupuri in Amroli area of ??Surat city, a 56-year-old middle-aged shopkeeper of grandfather's age exposed his perverted mentality by physically touching her on the pretext of straightening the girl's hair. However, the girl showed courage and went home and narrated the incident. The family filed a police complaint against the perpetrator, based on which the police have arrested the accused. Today, when the accused was taken to the scene and the incident was reconstructed, the women were furious and beat the accused with their shoes in the presence of the police.

According to the information received, Dinesh Jivrajbhai Ramani (age 56, originally from Makhiyana, Junagadh) runs a shop called "Shriji Live Alupuri" in the City Heights Complex near Srishti Row House in Amroli area. Yesterday, between 12 and 1 pm ,
