After Yamuna Water pact, Kishau Project to strengthen water security in Shekhawati

Jaipur, Aiming at pushing the long-pending water projects in North India, an MoU for the Kishau Multipurpose Project was signed on Tuesday in New Delhi among six participating states at a meeting chaired by Union Home Minister Amit Shah.

Chief Minister Bhajanlal Sharma, along with the Chief Ministers of the other participating states, signed the MoU in the presence of Union Minister for Jal Shakti, C.R. Patil.The Kishau project is expected to play an important role in addressing the water requirements of Rajasthan's water-scarce Shekhawati region, particularly Sikar, Churu and Jhunjhunu. The Kishau Multipurpose Project is proposed on the Tons River, a major tributary of the Yamuna, along the border of Uttarakhand and Himachal Pradesh.

With an estimated cost of approximately Rs 15,000 crore, the project will generate 660 MW of hydroelectric power and benefit Rajasthan, Uttarakhand, Himachal Pradesh, Delhi, Uttar Pradesh and Haryana.

Under the revised arrangement, a portion of Himachal Pradesh's allocated water share will be made available to Rajasthan and Delhi.

In return, the states concerned will contribute towards the cost of the power component associated with Himachal Pradesh. The Central Government will provide 90 per cent of the cost of the water component as assistance, while the participating states will contribute the remaining 10 per cent. The Government of India has included the Kishau Dam Project in the list of National Projects.

Construction, operation and maintenance of the project will be undertaken by Kishau Corporation Limited, with monitoring carried out under the established framework for the Upper Yamuna Basin.

Under the project, 124 million cubic metres (MCM) of water allocated to Rajasthan from the Kishau Dam is proposed to be conveyed to Churu through Haryana's Hansi-Butana system using three underground pipeline systems. This water will help meet the drinking water and other requirements of Sikar, Churu, Jhunjhunu and surrounding areas.

The project is expected to provide a major boost to the region's long-term water security and create new opportunities for development. Regular and adequate water availability will not only improve access to drinking water but also support irrigation and contribute to improvements in the region's social, educational, economic and health indicators.

The Kishau project will further strengthen the state government's ongoing efforts to secure water for the Shekhawati region.

Under the Yamuna Water Agreement, consensus has been reached among the states concerned to prepare a joint Detailed Project Report (DPR) for bringing water to Rajasthan through underground pipelines to meet the drinking water requirements of Sikar, Churu, Jhunjhunu and other areas.

The revised Kishau MoU will provide further strength to this water-supply system. The water made available through the project will be utilised for drinking, irrigation and other beneficial purposes.

The revised agreement places special emphasis on Rajasthan's interests. Under the arrangement, 95 per cent of the relevant water share will be made available to Delhi and Rajasthan, while Himachal Pradesh will retain 5 per cent for local use.

Of the 95 per cent share, the allocation between Delhi and Rajasthan will be in the ratio of 75:25.

The agreement is expected to provide Rajasthan with a stronger foundation for addressing the water requirements of its water-deficient regions. The Kishau project is being viewed as an important component of the broader development strategy for Shekhawati. Along with water security, the state government is focussing on connectivity, tourism, heritage conservation and air connectivity in the region. The Yamuna Water Agreement, efforts to preserve historic havelis and Shekhawati's rich cultural heritage, expressway and highway projects, and proposed air connectivity initiatives in Sikar and Jhunjhunu are expected to collectively accelerate regional development.

Improved water availability, combined with better road and air connectivity, tourism and heritage conservation, will create new opportunities for employment, investment and economic growth.

The integrated development of the region is also expected to provide greater opportunities for the youth of Shekhawati within their own region.

The state government is implementing several initiatives aimed at strengthening water security in Rajasthan, including the Ramjal Setu Link Project, with the objective of ensuring drinking and irrigation water availability across the state.

Under the Yamuna Water Agreement signed by five states in 1994, Rajasthan was allocated 1,917 cusecs, equivalent to 577 MCM, from the Tajewala Head during the monsoon season. However, due to the absence of the required water-conveyance infrastructure, Rajasthan could not receive its allocated share for the past 32 years.

The Kishau project and the associated water infrastructure are expected to provide fresh momentum to Rajasthan's efforts to secure and utilise its allocated water resources. The state government has emphasised that the coordinated implementation of these projects will strengthen water security and lay the foundation for sustainable development and improved quality of life across Shekhawati and other water-scarce regions of Rajasthan.

Karnataka Cong chief calls Umar Khalid 'nationalist'; BJP hits back

Bengaluru, Karnataka Congress Chief B.K. Hariprasad on Tuesday called imprisoned activist Umar Khalid a "nationalist" and criticised the Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad (ABVP) for opposing a proposed documentary screening of the student activist at the National Law School of India University (NLSIU) in Bengaluru.

"Umar Khalid is a nationalist. And ABVP has no right to speak about Umar Khalid because ABVP adores Nathuram Godse, who is anti-national; the first terrorist of the country. They have no moral right or moral ethics to speak about Umar Khalid," Hariprasad told reporters.

These remarks came as the ABVP in Bengaluru demanded to cancel a proposed campus screening of filmmaker Lalit Vachani's documentary on imprisoned activist Umar Khalid, titled 'Prisoner No. 626710 is Present'.

The documentary was scheduled to be screened at NLSIU on September 14 by the Law and Society Committee (Law Soc), a student organisation at the university.

However, the NLSIU said that the event was rescheduled due to "logistical" and "security considerations".

The event was being organised in solidarity with Umar Khalid and was marking six years since his imprisonment without trial under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) in connection with the 2020 Delhi riots. The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) hit out at the Karnataka Congress President's remark, calling it "deeply condemnable", while also recalling the time when the Congress gave "warm reception" to Kashmiri separatist leader Yasin Malik.

Speaking to the reporters, BJP MP Sambit Patra said, "Today, the kind of statement made by Karnataka Congress President B. K. Hariprasad is deeply condemnable. In the context of ABVP opposing a documentary screening on Umar Khalid at the National Law School of India University, B.K. Hariprasad referred to Umar Khalid as a nationalist. B.K. Hariprasad claimed that Umar Khalid is a nationalist while raising questions over the credentials of the ABVP."

"Just think about it: this is the same Umar Khalid. During the Citizenship Amendment Act protests in February 2020, so many people were killed in Delhi. A case was filed under the UAPA. The matter was heard across multiple courts; even in February 2026, just a few months ago, the Supreme Court rejected Umar Khalid's bail plea. Look at the sympathy the Congress party harbours for that very Umar Khalid -- they are calling him a nationalist!" Patra added.

The BJP MP also lashed out at the Congress over its meetings with Yasin Malik and said that the party has reduced itself to "appeasement".

Civic poll verdict is seal of approval for BJP's work under PM Modi: Rajasthan CM

New Delhi, Following the BJP's victory in the Rajasthan Urban Local Body elections, Rajasthan Chief Minister Bhajan Lal Sharma on Tuesday said the results reflected the people's approval of the work carried out in the state over the past two-and-a-half years under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Speaking to reporters, Sharma said, "Certainly, under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the work accomplished in Rajasthan over the past two-and-a-half years has received the seal of approval from the people of Rajasthan."

He said the Centre's contributions to the state through various initiatives had helped deliver the results.

"Beyond the water projects, through initiatives like 'Rising Rajasthan', whether concerning the Jaipur Metro or tourism development, the continuous contributions bestowed upon Rajasthan by Prime Minister Narendra Modi have delivered these results," he said.

Sharma also claimed that his government had already fulfilled 78 per cent of the promises made in its election manifesto within two-and-a-half years.

"I want to thank the youth and the people of Rajasthan for this win. They have worked to promote the vision of Prime Minister Modi. I want to thank everyone through your medium," he said.

Meanwhile, the ruling BJP emerged ahead of the Congress in Rajasthan's Urban Local Body elections on Monday, winning 4,179 wards against the Opposition party's 3,613 wards. The BJP also secured clear majorities in four of the state's 10 municipal corporations.

The Congress secured a majority in the Bikaner Municipal Corporation and registered a major victory in the Jhalawar Municipal Council, considered a stronghold of former Chief Minister Vasundhara Raje.

Independents also emerged as a significant force, winning 2,273 wards. They dominated the verdict in the Bharatpur Municipal Corporation. Bharatpur gave one of the most striking verdicts of the elections as Independents won 36 of the 65 wards, while BJP managed 20 and Congress seven. BSP and RLP won one ward each.

The result assumed political significance as Bharatpur is the hometown of Chief Minister Sharma. As the numbers streamed in, Sharma termed the victory to people's faith in the BJP, and central leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Youth have immense role in achieving targets for Viksit Bharat-2047, says Manipur Governor

Imphal, Highlighting Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Viksit Bharat-2047 vision, Manipur Governor Ajay Kumar Bhalla on Tuesday said the younger generation has an immense role to play in achieving the target of a developed nation and urged everyone to contribute in their respective fields. Gracing the presentation ceremony of the Governor's Award, 2026 and Rajkumari Sanatombi Devi Awards, 2026, the Governor said that Viksit Bharat-2047 as well as Viksit Manipur-2047 are priorities of the government, and these goals could be achieved successfully only with the wholehearted participation of people in general and youths in particular. Addressing the award ceremony, he congratulated all the awardees for their outstanding achievements, dedication and hard work. The Governor said that awards not only recognise achievements but also encourage others to strive for excellence. Bhalla recalled that the Governor's Award, instituted in 1998, recognises excellence in academics and co-curricular activities among students of Rajkumari Sanatombi Devi Vidyalaya. He also noted that the Rajkumari Sanatombi Devi Awards, instituted in 1983, recognise excellence in teaching, teacher education, nursing, sports, social work, the differently abled category.
