Pawan Kalyan expresses Anger over Pollution in Godavari River caused by the Andhra Paper Mills in Rajamahendravaram.

Pawan Kalyan took serious note of Andhra Paper Mills discharging polluted water into lagoons located in East Lanka. He visited the site personally to ascertain the extent to which the water is treated before discharge, as well as the actual levels of pollution present in the local waters.
He made officials collect soil and water samples on the spot and had them tested immediately using mobile testing kits. As the tests confirmed the presence of pollutants, orders were issued to immediately serve notices to the industry for failing to adhere to environmental regulations. He also questioned Pollution Control Board (PCB) officials regarding the manner in which water hyacinth had accumulated in the lagoons.
The Deputy Chief Minister questioned how industries could operate without even a basic sense of environmental responsibility, especially when the government encourages them by allocating land at concessional rates.
Pawan Kalyan expressed anger at the Pollution Control Board officials, demanding to know why no notices had been issued to the Andhra Paper Mills despite the massive levels of pollution being discharged.
He questioned District Collector Keerthi Chekuri regarding the failure to recover the outstanding dues of Rs 13 crore, which the industry owes to the government. Expressing his frustration with the officials, he emphasised that if they fail to discharge their duties properly, it is the government that ultimately has to answer to the public. There is outrage over the audacity of discharging such water into the river -- the very place where we bathe our children, he said "Regarding industrial pollution, everyone must strictly adhere to pollution control regulations. Officials must ensure that industries comply with these norms. If you encounter any issues at the ground level, please bring them to my attention; I will discuss them with the Honourable Chief Minister and the Cabinet to find a resolution," he said.
The Deputy CM has already announced that a task force will be formed to check pollution in the Godavari River. He was accompanied by Ministers Nadendla Manohar, Kandula Durgesh and local MLA Gorantla Butchaiah Chowdary.

CM Siddaramaiah meets Cong high command in Delhi amid K'taka leadership change buzz after concluding discussions with Siddaramaiah, the leaders will hold a separate meeting with Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar.

The outcome of the meeting is being keenly awaited. Deputy Chief Minister Shivakumar is considered a strong contender for the Chief Minister's post. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has repeatedly expressed his desire to complete the full term and has also stated that he will abide by the decision of the party high command. Ministers and legislators belonging to Siddaramaiah's camp have demanded that, in the event of a leadership change, state Home Minister G. Parameshwara, who hails from the Dalit community, should be made the Chief Minister.
Party President Mallikarjun Kharge has also stated that he was under pressure from state leaders, party workers and national leaders to become the Chief Minister. All eyes are now on the developments.
Meanwhile, Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar smiled when asked by media persons whether he would be the next Chief Minister of Karnataka.
Before arriving at Indira Bhavan, Siddaramaiah had breakfast at Karnataka Bhavan in Delhi along with Ministers G. Parameshwara, Satish Jarkiholi, H.C. Mahadevappa, Byrathi Suresh, K.J. George, and M.B. Patil, as well as senior Congress leader and Haryana incharge B.K. Hariprasad and legal adviser Ponnanna, among other prominent leaders.
PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi, reacting to the developments, said, "There has been confusion in the party for the past six months, and we are confident that it will be cleared soon. We have not received any call from the high command, and we have come along with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah. The discussions have not started yet. Once the meeting is over, we will see how the discussions take shape."
"We will also give our opinions on the post of KPCC President. We do not know whether this matter will be discussed in the meeting. The party is facing many issues, and if the leadership issue is settled, everything else will get settled automatically," Jarkiholi stated.
He underlined that the entire party would abide by the high command's decision.
When asked whether they planned to stay longer in Delhi, he said, "We do not know yet. Once the meeting is held, things will become clearer."
"There is no discussion on leadership change. However, everything has now reached a final stage," said Congress MLC and senior leader B.K. Hariprasad.

Devineni Uma Slams YSRCP Over Mega DSC Remarks

transparency and assured that future recruitments would also follow the same standards. He alleged that the YSRCP, which "cheated unemployed youth," had no moral right to comment on the DSC issue.He criticized the previous YSRCP government for allegedly failing to conduct even a single DSC during its five-year tenure. He further demanded that YSRCP leaders apologize to teachers for allegedly insulting them in the past.Uma also claimed that more than 220 cases were filed in an attempt to obstruct the DSC process. According to him, the present government has brought investments worth ?23 lakh crore to Andhra Pradesh within the last 23 months and is working toward creating 22 lakh jobs across the state."My Telugu Desam – My Responsibility"Speaking about the upcoming Telugu Desam Party activities, Devineni Uma said party cadres were enthusiastically working to make the TDP Mahanadu a grand success. He stated that this year's event is being organized under the slogan, "My Telugu Desam – My Responsibility."He said party workers have already intensified preparations and described the Mahanadu as an important platform that would shape the future direction and activities of the party."Irregularities Will Be Exposed"Referring to recent developments, Uma alleged that YSRCP irregularities were coming to light following the arrest of "Chinnappanna." He claimed that investigations were exposing financial irregularities involving hundreds of crores of rupees and accused YSRCP leaders of engaging in scams worth thousands of crores during their time in power.The former minister warned that all alleged irregularities committed since 2004 would be exposed one after another through ongoing investigations.

B.Tech Ravi Launches Sharp Attack on MP Avinash Reddy minister Y. S. Vivekananda Reddy in the High Court.B.Tech Ravi further accused Avinash Reddy of collecting commissions in various dealings and criticized him over alleged irregularities involving banana farmers. He also made allegations related to red sandalwood smuggling and claimed that certain former officials could provide details regarding such activities.Declaring that he was not afraid of political pressure or threats, Ravi challenged Avinash Reddy to deny the alleged events that took place at the Ullimella garden meeting. He stated that if his claims were proven false, he would quit politics.In a dramatic remark, Ravi said that "only Pushpa 1 has been shown so far," warning that "Pushpa 2 and Pushpa 3" were yet to come, indicating that he would reveal more allegations in the future.

Andhra Pradesh Government makes Key changes in Health Department

Government General Hospital in Vijayawada, while Dr. P. Ushakiran has been assigned the role of Principal of Rangaraya Medical College in Kakinada.The administrative changes are aimed at strengthening the functioning of the state's medical education and healthcare system. Officials stated that the reshuffle is expected to improve hospital administration, academic standards, and healthcare services in government-run institutions.Sources said that the appointments and transfers were approved by Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N. Chandrababu Naidu as part of ongoing efforts to streamline governance in the health sector.

ED Intensifies Probe Into Andhra Pradesh Liquor Scam

suggesting that crores of rupees were transferred through hawala networks.Investigators reportedly questioned the family members based on financial records and other material evidence collected during the inquiry. The ED is also said to have gathered key information regarding the alleged involvement of Chevireddy's wife and son in the suspected financial transactions linked to the scam.The investigation has gained significant political attention as there is speculation that the names of several other political leaders and officials could surface during the course of the probe. The latest developments in the ED investigation have therefore become a major topic of discussion in Andhra Pradesh political circles.Officials, however, have not yet made any formal public statement regarding further action in the case.

Mahanadu to Be Held Online Across 1,870 Clusters: Bonda Uma

financial empowerment of women. He stated that the government is providing interest-free loans of up to ?10 lakh to DWACRA women without collateral.The MLA also announced that the government is establishing 175 MSME parks across 175 Assembly constituencies with the aim of encouraging entrepreneurship. "The government's goal is to create at least one entrepreneur from every household," he said.On law enforcement, he stated that strict measures are being implemented to make Andhra Pradesh a drug-free state. He noted that police departments have been equipped with "spot analysis" kits to immediately identify drug usage.Bonda Uma further revealed that special resolutions concerning farmers, Backward Classes (BCs), Scheduled Castes (SCs), and minority communities would be introduced during this year's Mahanadu.

Goal is to intensify cooperation among ourselves while assisting others: EAM Jaishankar after Quad meet

Indo-Pacific.
He said that Quad nations will continue to deepen cooperation in several areas, including surveillance and domain awareness, logistics network, undersea cables, training, capacity building and HADR activities.
EAM Jaishankar said, "This is our first meeting in 2026. We had met twice in 2025. Understandably, much of the discussions and indeed the bilateral exchanges were devoted to the current state of the world. Being Quad, we naturally focused on issues of particular relevance to the Indo-Pacific because we are four maritime democracies located at different ends of the Indo-Pacific, the exchange of perspectives was an exercise of considerable value."
"The maritime domain has seen a steady expansion of collaboration, including surveillance and domain awareness, logistics network, undersea cables, training, capacity building and HADR activities. We will be continuing to deepen these areas in the times ahead. We spent some time on the question of safe and unimpeded maritime commerce and reaffirmed the significance of scrupulously observing international law. Our four nations are also market economies. We believe strongly that economic resilience should be promoted, the supply chains should be strengthened, trusted and secure technologies diffused, and production capacities enhanced. Our deliberations touched on the current energy and fertiliser availability, as well as that of critical minerals and resources. The goal is to intensify cooperation among ourselves while also assisting others," he added.
EAM Jaishankar said that India, the US, Japan and Australia also discussed countering terrorism and stressed that there must be zero tolerance for terrorism.
He emphasised that the Indo-Pacific will become more important to the world in the coming days.
"We, the Quad nations, are open societies who foster innovation and creativity in our quest for growth and prosperity. These forces are strengthened when we undertake more exchanges, as we intend to do. So, whether it is in business forums, healthcare initiatives, or digital activities, each facet of a joint effort makes the region that much better. As democratic nations, we also devoted attention to countering the common threat of terrorism. There must be zero tolerance for terrorism, and nations subject to terrorist attacks have the right to defend themselves," he stated.
"A free and open Indo-Pacific has many dimensions and facets. Our meeting today took stock of the progress in many of them while encouraging exploration in others. In the coming days, whether it is economic activity, energy trade or maritime commerce, the Indo-Pacific will become even more important to the world. The responsibilities of the Quad will grow commensurately, and we must prepare for that," he added.

Andhra Pradesh Govt to Implement 'Farm to Home' Policy: CM Chandrababu

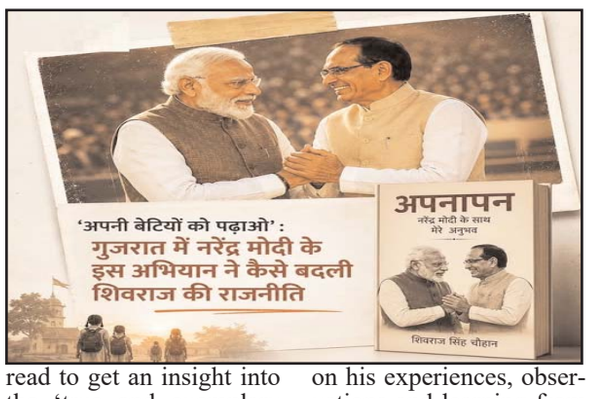

"Coco City" would be established near Yadavolu in Devarapalli mandal of West Godavari district to promote coconut-based industries and related economic activities. The Chief Minister further revealed that the foundation stone for the Indian School of Agriculture would be laid in July as part of efforts to modernize agricultural education and research in the state.
He stated that the government has sanctioned the required funds to complete the food testing laboratory currently under construction in Pulivendula of Kadapa district. According to the CM, the laboratory will play a crucial role in testing and ensuring the quality of agricultural products.
In support of the aquaculture sector, Chandrababu announced that electricity subsidies would be extended to new aqua connections to encourage growth in the industry. He also said that the government has approved the procurement of 200 mechanized boats for the welfare and livelihood support of fishermen
The Chief Minister reiterated that the state government remains fully committed to the development of farmers, fishermen, and all agriculture-related sectors through policy support, infrastructure development, and welfare initiatives.

Coalition Government Will Support Windstorm Victims: MLA Vasantha Krishna Prasad

uprooted trees and damaged several houses in the constituency. However, he clarified that there was no significant damage to agricultural crops.The MLA stated that officials had been directed to conduct a detailed assessment of the damaged houses and submit a report to the government so that assistance could be provided to the affected families at the earliest.He also mentioned that electricity supply was disrupted in several areas after electric poles collapsed and power lines were snapped due to the heavy winds. He assured the public that restoration works were progressing rapidly and that power supply would be restored by Tuesday evening.Responding to criticism over paddy procurement, Vasantha Krishna Prasad expressed displeasure over what he described as misleading comments being made by certain individuals regarding delays in grain purchases. He clarified that nearly 95 percent of the paddy procurement process had already been completed and payments had been directly deposited into farmers' bank accounts.The MLA criticized the previous YSRCP government, alleging that during its tenure even payments for procured grain were not deposited for several months. He stated that farmers were aware of the actual situation and could clearly see the difference in governance.Recently, strong winds caused widespread disruption in Mylavaram, uprooting large trees, damaging electricity infrastructure, and interrupting power supply in several localities. In this backdrop, the MLA reviewed the situation and assured prompt restoration and relief measures.

Shivraj Singh Chouhan's Book ('Apnapan') on PM Modi Unveiled in Delhi

New Delhi, May 26 : 'Apnapan', a book penned by Union Agriculture Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan on his decades-long association with Prime Minister Narendra Modi and also giving a peek into the latter's long-standing public life, was released on Tuesday, in the presence of several high-profile dignitaries in the national capital.
The book, titled 'Apnapan: Narendra Modi Sang Mere Anubhav', was formally launched by former Vice President M. Venkaiah Naidu and former Prime Minister Deve Gowda at the NASC Complex in the capital.
The event saw the participation of many Union Ministers, besides Chief Ministers from multiple states, including those of Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh, who reached the capital to be part of the book launch. Several writers, authors, and social leaders also attended the event.
The book, 'Apnapan', authored by Shivraj Chouhan, chronicles his 35-year-long association and experiences with PM Modi.
The Union Minister recalled decades of warmth, closeness and humility while working with the Prime Minister, during a long stretch of public life ranging from party worker to Chief Minister of respective states and then at the Centre.
He said that the book will serve as an inspiration for youth and will make them understand the commitment and dedication of a true leader.
Sharing a glimpse of the book on his social media handle, he also appealed to the readers to give it a read to get an insight into the 'true and exemplary leadership' as shown by the Prime Minister.

"I am fully confident that this book will acquaint the new generation with the breadth of Prime Minister's personality, the vastness of his heart, his dedication to national service, and his intimate affection toward workers," he said on his X handle.
According to Chouhan, the book reflects deeply on his experiences, observations and learning from more than three decades of political and organisational association with the Prime Minister, and he believes that this will find strong resonance with the people and political workers at large.
In a media interaction before the book launch, he stated that this book will serve as a "lesson" for those interested in governance and public leadership.
