Patan will become a green corridor

Patan

With the resolve to make Patan greener and more beautiful, the Patan Municipality has undertaken an intensive tree plantation campaign on the main roads of the city. In particular, the work of planting beautiful and lush trees in the divider in the middle of the road is being carried out on a war footing to develop the busy road from Bagwada Darwaja to Nutan Bus Stand as a green corridor.

In Patan city, iron safety nets were earlier installed between the dividers on the Bagwada Darwaja to Bus Stand road. However, the municipality has decided to remove these nets with the aim of making this area greener.

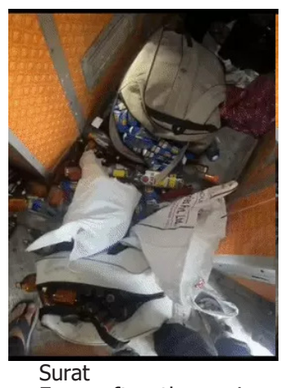

Municipal employees are digging holes in the area that has been cleared by removing the nets and planting various types of saplings that look beautiful and compact. There is a large number of vehicles on this road. In the scorching heat of summer, when these saplings grow into tall trees, they will provide shade to the entire road. This will provide great relief to motorists and pedestrians from the heat. Along with this, these trees will also prove helpful in controlling the rising heat of the city.

A pile of bags filled with liquor bottles in the AC coach of the train

5 bootleggers were looting in the train going from Bandra to Bhuj, passengers caught 3, 2 absconding; 5 FIRs

Surat

Even after the serious incident of Bhavnagar Latha incident, a shocking case has come to light that the Surat Railway Police (RPF) is still in a state of deep sleep and negligence. The railway system woke up after the passengers themselves checked the AC coach of the train going from Bandra to Bhuj and caught the liquor boxes and bootleggers red-handed. A total of 5 separate FIRs have been filed at the railway police station in this matter. Due to the vigilance of the passengers, 3 accused have come into police custody, while a search has been started for 2 absconding bootleggers.

Unclaimed bags under the seat as soon as the train departed from Vapi, raising suspicions.

A large consignment of liquor was found in the third AC (3 AC) coach of train number 09037 Superfast Special going from Bandra Terminus to Bhuj on Thursday (August 27). After the train departed from Vapi station, the attention of the passengers was drawn to the unclaimed bags lying under the seat for a long time. As no passenger came to collect the bags, the passengers suspected that there was something black in the dal. When the passengers opened the bags and checked them, a large quantity of foreign liquor bottles, beer cans and quarters were found in them.

Passengers took out more than 10 boxes and piled them near the toilet.

As the news of the liquor consignment spreading like wildfire in the coach, other passengers also became alert.

The passengers themselves started a search operation in the entire coach. One after another, more than 10 boxes, bags and plastic bags hidden under the seats and in the corners were taken out. The passengers collected this entire quantity near the toilet and in the vestibule area of ??the coach. In a short time, there was a huge pile of liquor there and the passengers immediately informed the train's TTE and expressed their anger against the railway security.

3 suspects present in the coach were trying to escape, but the alert passengers surrounded them from all sides and caught them. 5 different bootleggers were trying to smuggle this liquor in this entire train towards Surat. The three of them, caught by the passengers, confessed that the liquor was theirs, while the other two bootleggers escaped from the train taking advantage of the crowd and commotion.

Passengers at Surat station handed over the accused to RPF-GRP.

As soon as the railway control room was informed about the seizure of liquor in the train, a large convoy of RPF and GRP rushed to the platform as soon as the train reached Surat station. The passengers handed over the three suspected bootleggers and the quantity of liquor found near the toilet to the police.

The police seized 3 large travel bags and 6 plastic parcels from the spot. Currently, the police have registered a case against all the five bootleggers under 5 Prohibition Acts and are investigating how such a large quantity was loaded onto the train from Vapi station without security check.

Sister who had a love marriage kidnapped on the day of Raksha Bandhan

Brother called her out to tie Rakhi through a message on Instagram, forcibly took her away in an Ertiga car

Mehsana

In Vadnagar taluka, a sister who had a love marriage on Rakshabandhan was kidnapped by her brother in a car without a number plate on the pretext of tying a rakhi. The husband of the victim in this entire case has filed a complaint of kidnapping against his brother-in-law and 3 unknown persons at the Vadnagar police station.

After the love marriage, the brother called the girl who was living with her in-laws by sending a message on Instagram.

Sachin Kumar Bharatji Thakor, who lives in Wakharpura village of Chhablia Seam in Vadnagar taluka and works as a farmer, got married to Vaidehi Patel of Malekpur village of Vadnagar about 7 months ago. After the marriage, Vaidehi lived with her husband in her in-laws' house. On the day of Raksha Bandhan, Vaidehi's brother Janil Patel sent her a message on Instagram and asked her to come to Vadnagar to tie a rakhi. So, Sachin Kumar reached Vadnagar with his wife Vaidehi and younger niece in an Activa, where Vaidehi tied a rakhi to her brother in front of the Bahuchar petrol pump near Torania Vad.

After tying the rakhi, the couple was about to return to their village when a white Ertiga car without a number plate drove up and stopped them on the pretext of talking for a while. Meanwhile, at around 1:15 pm, a white Ertiga car without a number plate arrived from Visnagar at full speed. The car driver stopped the car near Sachin Kumar's Activa and suddenly opened the door, causing the Activa to fall down. Amidst the uproar, the brother was forced into the car and escaped with it.

Despite Vaidehi's uproar and protests, two unknown men who got out of the car forcibly put her into an Ertiga car. Amidst this dramatic turn of events, brother Janil also left his Activa on the road and got into the kidnappers' car and all the accused fled at full speed towards Visnagar.
