

Standard Chartered and Haritika to plant 1 Million Native Trees

Ahmedabad, Standard Chartered Bank, India, and Haritika, a non-governmental organisation, have announced "Project Freedom 2.0" - an initiative through which 1 million (10 lakh) native saplings are getting planted across four Army establishments.

This ambitious large scale tree plantation project is getting carried out simultaneously in Gwalior (0.2 mn - 2 lakh), Babina (0.3 mn - 3 lakh), Sagar (0.3 mn - 3 lakh), and Ahmednagar (0.2 mn - 2 lakh) establishments, marking a significant milestone in the Bank's efforts towards enhancing India's green cover and restoring ecological balance. The initiative addresses critical environmental challenges prevalent in the northern and central belts of India, which are particularly vulnerable to water scarcity, largely due to geographical factors. Changing climate patterns have increasingly disrupted rainfall and agricultural activity, impacting the livelihoods of people dependent on monsoons for farming. Through Project Freedom 2.0, the Bank is working on developing new forests through agroforestry-based sustainable carbon sequestration initiatives, which includes conserving biodiversity and planting diverse native species.

Yash Raj Films releases the glimpse of the hugely anticipated Hrithik vs NTR dance

Ahmedabad, Yash Raj Films has finally released the glimpse of the massively awaited Hrithik vs NTR dance off Janaabe Aali! It is going to be an EPIC WAR on the dance floor as two of India's best actors and dancers, Hrithik Roshan & NTR take on each other in this battle of swag. The track composed by Pritam, sung by Sachet Tandon and Saaj Bhatt, with lyrics by Amitabh Bhattacharya is a high-energy and pulsating dance anthem.

Catch the electrifying tease of Janaabe Aali here: <https://youtu.be/XBFSJ9KFQsg>

Aditya Chopra, who is known for disruptive thinking when it comes to mounting tentpoles of India for over 30 years now, is bringing back his Kajra Re & Dhoom 3's Kamli music strategy for War 2's Janaabe Aali! He has decided to not release the full song online to preserve the magic of experiencing this once in a lifetime moment of seeing Hrithik & NTR dancing with and against each other ONLY for the big screen. YRF wants to bring people into theatres to watch War 2 and experience the magic of seeing Hrithik & NTR dancing together on the big screen, just as it is supposed to be consumed. Aditya Chopra had earlier preserved the best song of Bunty Aur Babli, Kajre Re, pre-release and people were blown seeing it in theatres.

Nearly a year after Hasina's exit, stability still eludes Bangladesh

August 5, 2025, marks one year since former Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina sought refuge in India, following a wave of violent unrest across Bangladesh that left widespread destruction and countless lives lost. Many in the country had hoped that her departure would bring a return to order and stability. Instead, the situation has deteriorated sharply, with law and order collapsing on multiple fronts. A stark example of this is the recent violence in Gopalganj — a traditional stronghold of the Awami League (AL) and home to a significant Hindu minority, comprising nearly 40 per cent of the population of the area.

The National Citizen Party (NCP), which is believed to enjoy open backing of the ruling dispensation of Muhammad Yunus, in active collaboration with Jammāt-e-Islami (JeI) and other communally fanatical parties, resorted to unprovoked violence in attacking the Awami League activists in Gopalganj in an ostensible bid to weaken the AL bastion and demoralise the Hindu population, keeping aloft the communal frenzy. Several people were killed by the security forces, and at the time of writing the column, the city is filled with tension and uneasy calm notwithstanding the imposition of stringent prohibitory orders and security forces resorting to indiscriminate firing resulting in deaths and injuries, and the paramilitary forces and the army are seen in clear visuals protecting the NCP and Jammāt activists in the hold of the Armoured Personnel Carriers (APCs) to save them lest their crime be exposed.

This spurt of violence in Gopalganj signals that the law and order machinery is still far from satisfactory. Also, according to a prominent Dhaka Daily, Prothom Alo (July 17), the commemorative march marking the July 2024 uprising was planned well in advance by the NCP and its affiliates, and the authorities were obviously indifferent to any wake-up calls or straws in the wind. This also shows complete failure of the intelligence apparatus of the government.

Interestingly, the advisor in charge of law and order, Lieutenant General (Retired) Jahangir Alam Chowdhury, is not only an army veteran but also headed the then Bangladesh Rifles (BDR), now renamed as Bangladesh Border Guards (BGB). The ineptitude on the part of the general speaks of a complete lack of oversight in reining in the disturbing law and exercising order and control over the national intelligence with far-reaching security implications.

Now, two things are glaring and can't be ignored. One, the Hindus will be more vulnerable in Gopalganj in particular, and the cascading effects of the ensuing violence are likely to reverberate in other Hindu pockets in Bangladesh, where they could possibly be the target of violence, with their places of worship and immovable property more vulnerable to the communal elements. Two, with the tacit support of the interim regime under Muhammad Yunus, anti-AL forces, including the NCP and the Jammāt, in all probability, will be emboldened to take on the AL cadres in order to further decimate them.
